Personnel

Tutoring

No staff engaged in a business activity may contract with their own students for their specific service nor solicit students for a business activity.

The Board of Education expects teachers and other members of the instructional staff to make every effort to resolve students' learning problems at school before recommending that parents/guardians engage a tutor or other professional help. By maintaining a competent, dedicated staff and adequate instructional resources, the Board seeks to minimize the need for individual tutoring.

Certificated employees may provide tutoring services to students from their work location who are enrolled in other classes and/or grade levels or to students enrolled at other schools (K-12) in the District.

It shall be considered a conflict of interest for a District employee to tutor or provide services to students in the following situations:

1. Tutoring for compensation (monetary or material) of students who are on the teacher's current roll book.
2. Conducting group tutorials for compensation (monetary or material) which are designed to prepare students for Conejo Valley Unified School District secondary final exams. (Group is defined as more than one student in attendance.)
3. Use of a District classroom without permit to provide paid tutorial service.
4. Tutoring for extra compensation (monetary or material) during the contract day.
5. Providing counseling for therapy service for compensation (monetary or material) for a student within the provider's District caseload.
6. Recruiting and/or soliciting students, parents or other employees to recruit students for paid tutorial or counseling services.
7. Outside tutoring shall not be recommended as a substitute for the District's or school's educational responsibilities.

Exceptions to the above may only be granted by the Superintendent or his/her designee.
